Summary: 1992: Bunny, a stuntman in films, recruits struggling actor Honey for a side gig which endangers her life. 2000: Single mother Honey and her daughter Nadia's idyllic life is shattered when Honey's past catches up. And the estranged Bunny finds a truth that shakes up his life!

The episode begins in Nainital in the year 2000. A woman named Honey drops her young daughter Nadia to school. She then heads back to the café that she runs with her partner Vivek. When she goes to the market, she realises a suspicious man is following her.

She hides and sends Nadia a text on her pager: "Play." Nadia sneaks out of school and reaches a theatre. She texts her mother the word "cinema." Meanwhile, Honey is chasing the man when somebody else sneaks up on her and knocks her out.

The scene shifts to 1992 Bombay. We are introduced to Bunny, a stuntman working for a movie. Honey is an aspiring actress giving an audition. When the director tries to take advantage of her, Honey kicks him.

She and Bunny seem to be friends as we see them eating together as Bunny tries to comfort her. When she describes how desperately she needs money, Bunny tells her about a side job from where he gets extra cash. But Honey doesn't want to get involved in anything illegal. She changes her mind when her landlord kicks her out and she has to sleep at a friend's place.

Bunny and three others, including a man named Ludo, discuss the new job. A man named David D'Souza is coming to town for a high-tech deal. They need to steal the tech from his room. Sometime later, Honey turns up on Bunny's doorstep and says she'll take the job.

We move back to 2000 where Honey is stuck in the back of a car. She texts Nadia to call Vivek and she does so, telling him to come pick her up.

In 1992, Honey stages a scene in the hotel and distracts David D'Souza. Bunny and his team search his hotel room but don't find the disc they've been told to find. Honey is about to leave when Bunny mentions David might have the disc in his pocket. She goes to David's room, drugs him and then finds the disc in his pocket.

Unfortunately, David wakes up and attacks her. He asks her if Vishwa sent her but Honey doesn't know who he's talking about. Despite his colleagues discouraging him, Bunny runs inside and fights off all of David's guards to save Honey.

As they run away, David pages another man waiting on the street. He and his men chase Bunny and the others. One of Bunny's men, Jagan, falls behind. In the chaos, Honey gets shot but Bunny manages to run away with her.

The man chasing Bunny, named Shaan, reports the situation to a woman named Zooni. She talks about a Project Talwar which was meant to fight people like Vishwa. Elsewhere, Bunny reports to Vishwa, who chastises him for getting a civilian like Honey involved.

Once again, we move to 2000, this time in Bucharest. Bunny is part of a band and sleeps with a woman later at night. In the morning, his phone gets a text reminding him to "check portal." Bunny goes to a cyber cafe and sees his message: "Honey alive. You have a daughter. They are in danger somewhere in Nainital."

Back in Nainital, Honey fights her way out of the trunk, kills the drivers, and escapes the car. Nadia is almost asleep at home when some mysterious men turn up to get her and kill Vivek. She pages Honey, asking for help.

Guest Stars: Jihan Jeetendra Hodar (Kid Rahi), Suvel Gupta (Kid Chacko), Sagar Tugnait (Crewcut), Armaan Khera (Nakul), Prakash Shaw (Guru's Helper), Shilpi Arora (Guru's 1st Wife), Hardika Sharma (Child Hani), Shruthi Narayanan (Nanjamani), Mukhtar Khan (Raja Narasimharaja Pratap), Arush (Child Rudra), Ajith Koshy (Guard Seshadri), Bhargavi (Young Hani), Kamtam Kiran Kumar (Young Honey's Husband), Yash Puri (Pratapa Rudra), Juhi Arora (Rahi's Mother), Ajay Kumar (Rahi's Father), Shamsher (Agent at Base 33)
Summary: 1992: Guru's agency makes inroads into their enemy's Project Talwar. As romance blossoms between Honey and Bunny, she entrenches herself in the agency, despite Guru's skepticism. 2000: Bunny reunites with Chacko to look for the estranged Honey and Nadia, who are on the run from their assailants.

The episode begins with Bunny's past. We see flashes of his life in an orphanage in Himachal Pradesh where he met Chako, his colleague from 1992. At present in 2000, Bunny returns to the orphanage and meets Chako, who is now older and married. Bunny reveals that Ludo was the one who told him about Honey and his daughter. Now, they set about getting guns and ammunition from a hidden spot.

In Nainital, Nadia pages her mother for help and sneaks out the house's window. The man who came looking for her, KD, leaves his men to search the house and heads back to base. Honey threatens a couple into giving her their car and reunites with Nadia at a bakery where she is hiding.

In 1992, Bunny asks Vishwa about Project Talwar. Vishwa tells him about a machine that can track anyone, anywhere. He then berates Bunny for getting Honey involved. Vishwa's wife comes home and greets Bunny as well. Meanwhile, Shaan and Zooni are able to identify Honey and decide to find her.

A flashback shows us Honey's past. She was part of a royal family and keen on learning how to ride and shoot a gun even if those activities were not allowed to her. When she grows up, she is married off to an older man who later dies. Afterwards, she moves to Bombay to chase her dreams.

In 1992, she wakes up with a start and Bunny helps her up. He breaks the news to her — she's now on the enemy's radar and must leave her old life. No more acting. He's willing to give her a new life with a new identity though. Honey asks Bunny about his past and he describes how his parents died in a mass shooting. Honey then asks about his work and Bunny says his mentor, Vishwa, recruited them as kids. It gave him purpose.

In 2000, Bunny contacts Ludo and asks for 'their' local base. Ludo says it is Base 33. Bunny and Chako head in that direction. Meanwhile, Honey and Nadia head to a safe house.

Back in 1992, Bunny and Honey mess around in their safe house and end up kissing. Later, she tells Bunny she wants to become an agent. Bunny convinces Vishwa to recruit her and then starts training her. She learns how to fight, pick locks, and use high tech. She already knows how to shoot guns.

Simultaneously, Ludo decrypts the disc to learn about a Dr Raghu Rao who has opened a top secret lab in Bangalore. This is where Project Talwar is being developed. After three months of surveillance, they learn Rao is going to Belgrade to get a critical piece for Project Talwar. The team decide to follow him. Vishwa doesn't trust women though and warns Honey to not be a liability.

In the year 2000, KD's men find an address which could be one of Honey's safe houses. Bunny and Chako reach Base 33. They scale the wall and search the place but don't find Honey. However, they do find a new set of coordinates that the units have gone after.

The two men get caught and a shootout follows. Bunny fights KD, whom he seems to know, and ultimately wins. He and Chako then drive off towards Honey's safe house, rushing to get there before KD's men.

Summary: 1992: Bunny and Honey embark on the agency's most important mission in Belgrade. Honey makes a shocking discovery. 2000: Bunny narrowly misses Honey and Nadia. Fearing the worst and left with no choice, he and Chacko turn to their old buddy Ludo for help.

The episode begins with Nadia waking up from a dream about Vivek. Just as they are sitting down to eat, Honey's motion sensors beep. KD's men have arrived. Honey locks Nadia inside a trunk and gets her guns. She fights off the men and then drives off with Nadia.

KD's brother calls KD, who is still alive, and tells him Honey got away. Bunny and Chako arrive at the safe house later. Seeing the bloodshed, Bunny says this is not the Honey he trained.

Back in 1992, the Belgrade project begins. Honey poses as a conference attendee, dressed up to look like Dr Rao's late wife, Charu. They get to talking and she plants a bug on him.

In 2000, Honey is driving but begins to feel sleepy due to her injuries. She stops the car and tells Nadia she's going to rest for a bit. She makes Nadia promise not to leave the car but on seeing Honey's wound, Nadia leaves to get medicine. Honey wakes up in a panic but finds Nadia on her way back.

Honey later pays a couple to let both of them stay over at their house. She then tells Nadia off for leaving the car. Not too far, Bunny and Chako are on the road with Nadia's things that they found at the house. Bunny goes through a book of photographs and tears up.

Back in 1992, Dr Raghu Rao meets Zooni. Bunny and team listen in on them. Rao talks about a meeting with an important friend who is going to hand over the Armada — the key piece of tech. Honey shows up in her disguise again to get information about the meeting. They notice a man slip Rao a card with details about the meeting. Honey is told to retrieve it.

She then lures Rao to a restaurant with the promise of South Indian food. But while Rao is talking about how satellite technology can be used for peace, Honey suddenly faints. Bunny and the others are wondering why Honey hasn't returned yet when Vishwa himself turns up. He's brought a new man along, Kedar otherwise known as KD.

In 2000, Bunny gets in touch with Ludo and asks for help. He wants all of Vishwa's files but if Ludo does this, he'll have to leave Vishwa's agency and disappear.

Honey uses the phone she got from one of the men chasing her and makes a call. Vishwa picks up and accuses Honey of betraying him and of pretending to be dead for eight years. At the end of the episode, she asks Vishwa what he wants and he says he wants 'that'. If he doesn't get it, he will hurt someone she loves.

Summary:	1992: Honey struggles to balance her personal feelings and love for Bunny with her duty to the mission, facing a profound inner conflict. 2000: Honey encounters a similar dilemma when she must decide whether to seek refuge in her childhood home, the place she once despised. Meanwhile, Bunny makes an important breakthrough about Guru and his motives!

The episode begins with Bunny explaining why he asked Ludo to send all of Vishwa's files. Bunny says he knows Vishwa reactivated the agency because he's planning something big. Meanwhile, Honey and Nadia go on the road again. Nadia asks about Bunny and how Honey became an agent. When Nadia asks where they are going, Honey replies that they are going home.

Elsewhere, KD meets Vishwa who is angry that they haven't caught Honey yet. He keeps praising Bunny instead and KD promises to deliver him and Honey to Vishwa. KD then meets Vishwa's wife but this is a different woman from the one Bunny met in the past.

Back in 1992, Honey wakes up in a hospital and the doctor tells her she's pregnant. Rao takes her home and talks about regretting the abortion he and his wife got. While he goes to get some medicine, Honey sneaks a look at the card Rao received from the man at the conference.

She later goes back to the team's base and notes down the words on the card that she memorised. Another team member translates it to reveal the location of a gallery. Vishwa then speaks with Honey and tells her to stay off-field, in the van with Ludo.

Honey talks to Bunny and reveals her doubts about whether Rao is really the bad guy. Bunny is sure that he is and that stealing the tech is the right thing. She's about to reveal the sonogram when Bunny says this is not the time to talk about family. She hides the sonogram in her pocket again. When she asks if Bunny is going to kill Rao, he says no.

In 2000, Ludo copies Vishwa's files at great risk. The rest of the team finds out soon enough and goes after him. Meanwhile, Honey and Nadia reach her original home in South India, which is a palace where the staff addresses her as "Princess."

Her brother Pratap encourages her to stay longer despite her fraught relationship with her father, who looked down on her for being illegitimate. Meanwhile, Bunny and Chako meet with Ludo at his secret hideout in Mumbai.

In 1992, everybody watches the place where Rao is to have his important meeting — Bunny, Chako, and several of Zooni's agents as well. Bunny tells Chako about Honey's doubts. He says that they have thought the same but didn't have the courage to challenge Vishwa since he was like a father to them.

Their conversation is broken up by Rao's arrival. He meets a man named Pavel who says his chip can accelerate Rao's tech. Pavel asks about Charu, Rao's wife, and he says he doesn't want to bother her.

When Rao comes out of the building, Bunny grabs him and gets lost amidst a peace rally. This goes against Vishwa's plan and Honey gets out of the van, inadvertently allowing Shaan to spot her. She eventually corners him and shoots him in the leg.

Bunny gets Rao inside a train and takes the chip. He lets Rao go alive though and Vishwa insists he "finish the job." As instructed, KD and Chako go after Pavel and kill him. Honey tries to warn Rao but Bunny reaches him first and shoots him. Honey is disturbed by Bunny's actions.

Vishwa receives the Armada and later gets on a call with men from around the world who call him "Guru." They discuss how this is a great move for the Foundation and they can finally bring Citadel down. Zooni and Shaan are revealed to be Citadel agents who started the organisation three years ago. Shaan promises to get the Armada back.

When Bunny and Honey finally meet again, Honey is furious that he lied to her about not killing Rao. He tells her he made a mistake bringing her into this family in the first place. She storms off and goes to Citadel, giving them a chance to get the Armada back.

In 2000, Honey goes to an unused room in the palace and finds the Armada, which she had hidden away in a box.

Summary: 1992: Honey's world is turned upside down when she discovers the agency she once trusted is not who they claim to be, forcing her to take a drastic step, risking everyone's lives. 2000: Bunny plots Honey's next step, as drastic as the one she took in the past.

The episode begins in 1992, Belgrade. With the mission completed, Chako and Ludo head back to India. Vishwa then reveals his plan for the Armada — building his own weapons and surveillance program. He plans to eliminate all those who don't have the same worldview as him.

In 2000, Ludo tells Bunny and Chako that nothing was the same without them. When Vishwa began operations again, he blindly joined. Bunny blames it all on loyalty.

In the palace in South India, Nadia watches movie tapes trying to spot Bunny's face. Honey decides to finally meet her bedridden father. She tells him she's raising Nadia to fight men like him.

When his expression shows distaste, she pretends to put a pillow over his face, scaring him before she leaves. Honey then asks her brother to take care of Nadia while she goes off to face Vishwa. She then speaks to Nadia and tells her she has to go. Nadia is upset but lets her mother leave.

Meanwhile, Bunny, Chako and Ludo break into a Citadel tech facility and find out if Honey has contacted them. They find that she hasn't called yet but Bunny is confident that she will. She does indeed call and speaks to Shaan, while the three men listen in on them. Honey asks for protection in return for the Armada. Shaan agrees and they decide to meet at 2 pm.

Back in 1992, Honey, Bunny and Vishwa get into a car. Honey's wearing a tracker which allows Shaan and his men to find them. A chase ensues and when the cars crash into each other, Honey takes off with the Armada. Bunny stops Vishwa from shooting her and as a result, Vishwa dismisses him. Bunny goes after Honey and threatens to shoot her. That's when she reveals that she's pregnant, leaving Bunny helpless.

Vishwa sends KD after Honey, who has taken over a civilian's car. KD shoots and the car goes up in flames, leading everyone to believe she's dead and that the Armada is lost. Vishwa gives up and gets arrested by Citadel. Zooni confronts him, accusing him of killing her husband, the head of Citadel. Zooni is taken aback when he says he doesn't have the Armada.

In 2000, Vishwa and his partners meet an Italian named Ettore Zani. He's an arms dealer who wants to join the Foundation. These same partners were the ones who got Vishwa out of the Citadel centre eight years ago.

Honey goes to the meeting place with Citadel but finds Bunny waiting for her there. They fight but Bunny manages to convince her that Citadel is a trap and not safe for her. They drive away and Bunny tells her that Citadel has a traitor, who helped Vishwa escape.

He takes her back to his hideout where she has an awkward reunion with Chako and Ludo, who haven't quite forgiven her. Ludo finds the person who is contacting Vishwa from inside Citadel. At the end of the episode, he brings up an image but we don't see who it is.

Summary: 2000: As things come to a head, Honey and Bunny join forces to unleash their full might, fighting for love, family, and their daughter's future. As KD decides to take matters into his own hands, the ensuing battle tests their resilience, leaving the future uncertain.

The episode begins with an honest conversation between Honey and Bunny. Bunny asks her why she never told him she was alive. She says he was wrapped around Vishwa's finger and she couldn't trust him. Honey describes Nadia to him, her skills and determination. Then it's time for Honey and Bunny to leave. Bunny says goodbye to his friends and Ludo gives Honey two phones for her and Nadia to stay connected.

The scene shifts to 1999. Vishwa is in the Citadel detention centre speaking to Zooni. He claims that he never betrayed Zooni's husband, Rinzy. He was supposed to meet Rinzy at a rendezvous point but he never showed up. Since then, Citadel labelled Vishwa a traitor but he continued to work on his and Rinzy's team.

Zooni asks about this 'dream'. Vishwa says he and Rinzy questioned Citadel's doctrine of being loyal to nothing but Citadel. They planned to create a new organization where they wouldn't make the same mistakes. She even leads Zooni to a locker where she finds photographs of all the people working to build the Foundation.

In 2000, Honey meets with Shaan at a café. She gives him intel on the Citadel traitor — it is none other than Zooni. She gives him a CD with proof as well. At Citadel, Shaan confronts Zooni and takes her to a holding cell.

Meanwhile, Vishwa is at an orphanage offering young boys the same speech he gave Bunny all those years ago. Bunny turns up, gun in hand and tells Vishwa he has the Armada with him. He brings it out and shoots it, destroying the device. Vishwa is aghast and tells Bunny that they could have controlled the world together but Bunny says he never wanted that. He leaves Vishwa alive but tells him to stay away from his family.

In a shocking twist, KD ends up at Chako's family's house. Chako's wife catches him snooping on Chako's computer. Later, KD calls his colleague Nakul and says he has Ludo's address. Nakul says Vishwa has ordered them to stand down since this chapter is over. But KD insists on completing the job.

Back in South India, Nadia takes a gun from the wall and is messing around with it when Bunny and Honey enter the room. Honey introduces them and Nadia reluctantly gives him a high five. Nadia makes them all watch a movie that features both, Honey and Bunny. She then asks Honey if 'play mode' is over.

In Mumbai, Ludo fries all the computers and escapes his hideout before KD and his men arrive. But KD's men are able to find the location of Honey's satellite phone. Ludo is alerted to this and immediately contacts Bunny. He and Honey prepare for an attack.

Honey's brother takes Nadia to hide in an outhouse. Soon, KD's cars burst into the palace complex. The shootout begins and Honey and Bunny work as a team. At one point, Nakul shoots Honey but she fatally stabs him in return. Bunny says they need to leave with Nadia.

They grab Nadia from her hiding spot and drive off but a car follows them and forces them to stop and fight again. As they see more cars coming, Bunny decides to stay behind and give Honey and Nadia a chance to escape. KD arrives, eager to get revenge for Nakul's death and fights Bunny. In the end, they end up shooting each other.

Both of them are heavily injured and Bunny tells KD that Vishwa's hospitality was entirely fake. He mentions the fake house, fake wife and even the burnt chicken that he used to test his sons' loyalty. This seems to change KD's mind and he lets Bunny go before the next set of men arrive.

The episode ends with Bunny walking away from KD and then stopping in his tracks. Meanwhile, Honey and Nadia wait for him to arrive. KD passes out but we aren't sure if he's dead or not. The series ends on a cliffhanger so we also can't be sure if Bunny will run to his family or if he will try and stop the coming army of men to give Honey and Nadia a fighting chance.
