Production Code: 351416-1
Summary: Jenny is called to investigate the death of a teen in a youth detention centre. Her own life is upended by the untimely death of her husband and she learns to navigate raising a teenage son on her own.

Jenny is at a swim meet. She watches her son with David, happy. It appears as if David has a stroke. He falls into the pool. Three months later she is at therapy. After, she arrives at a homicide after listening to a tape on anxiety in her care.

On the scene at a facility for troubled juvenile, she is brought to the body of a teen girl who committed suicide. She was just 16, named Danielle. She has been in trouble, recently robbing a convenient store. She is then brought to a cell where another body of a teen boy named Kevin lays. She heads back to where the teen girl was found. The novel, Romeo and Juliet, is brought to her. The police found it on the scene.

Jenny heads back to work and assesses the bodies. She tells the pathologist about the female's heel abrasion. She thinks it happened before the suicide. The pathologist is annoyed and doesn't want to look into it.

Mac looks around the facility, asking questions. He learns the guard watching Kevin fell asleep on the job. Meanwhile, Jenny meets with Danielle's mother who tells her that her daughter seemed happy the last she saw.

Ross, Jenny's son, comes in the kitchen and notices her new case. She shares a little with him about their suicide. He tells her she has nothing to worry about.

Jenny breaks into her husband's desk drawer and finds a bunch of foreclosure notices. She begins to cry. Ross comes in. She lies and pretends everything is fine.

Jenny is crying in her car when Mac arrives to head with her to the juvenile facility. Jenny tells him that she thinks something is weird about Danielle's heel. Jenny thinks it might be a love triangle. She meets with Kevin's roommate. He admits he was briefly into Danielle.

Mac questions some of the staff and learns there is no video footage they can use. Meanwhile, Jenny is in a circle with some of the kids with Kevin's roommate. He begins to seize. She Narcan him.

Jenny heads to see the pathologist. She is annoyed he didn't follow up on any of her concerns. She fires him after learning Danielle had drugs in her system and he released both of the bodies. Jenny heads to see Danielle's mom. She gets mad and refuses to release her daughter's body. Jenny gets clever and takes skin from Danielle's heel at the funeral home instead.

Back at the office, Jenny learns that Kevin's roommate has fentanyl in his system. She gets a call. She has another body. She heads to the home of an elderly woman. She takes a moment to collect herself inside when a man working on the house asks her if she wants to go get a beer. She agrees.

At the bar, Jenny feels awkward, confessing her husband is dead. He gambled all their money away. She learns the repairman is back from the military. She gets a call from work. He brings her home. They don't get far. They kiss and spend some time in the back of his truck bed.

Back at juvie, Mac shows Jenny how the staff cuffs kids through the door. He thinks that may have been the way they were killed. They meet with Kevin's roommate again and ask him who gave him the drugs. He tells them the guards.

Jenny changes all of the teen's deaths as a homicide. She meets with the parents and shares that Kevin and Danielle were in love. Later that night, Jenny calls in an offer on a smaller home.

Guest Stars: Nicholas Campbell (Gordon Cooper), Graeme Jokic (Matteo), Kiley May (River Baitz), Sebastian Naskrent (Victor Stenton), Paniz Zade (Shanti Laghari), Ethan Nekram (Luke Stenton), Adam Kenneth Wilson (Gustav 'Gus' Prisciacc), Alanna Bale (Lauren Foster), Sherilyn Allen (Courtney), Leon Aureus (Mario), Sean Baek (Lawrence), Sabine Dukelow (Gail), Massey Ahmar (Concierge)
Production Code: 351416-2
Summary: Jenny is called to a luxe condo to investigate the death of cannabis mogul Vic Stenton. Jenny starts to figure out what it means to live life as a widow, including the good and bad.

Jenny and Ross struggle to adjust to the new house.

Jenny has work, but promises to make Ross's swim meet. She comes but he doesn't seem to want her there; she is not as helpful as his dad used to be. Ross learns from his grandfather about the gambling and the house. He meets Liam who offers help.

Jenny and McAvoy investigate the death of Vic Stenton, a rich guy who sold weed.

A woman with blood on her clothes wants to leave; her son is waiting downstairs. She's Stenton's wife, Shanti; she found him and tried to revive him.

Jenny offers to get the wife's bloodstained clothes for evidence so Shanti can leave. Shanti freaks out about never taking her husband's name and what she's going to tell her son. Later, they let her back into the crime scene to get her son's blanket.

Stenton's body is in the bathroom. He has a lot of little cuts and one big one in his neck. Jenny thinks the body was moved. He looks like he was thrown through a window and then stabbed, but the windows are not broken and there is no murder weapon.

Jenny sees the black dog hallucination at the crime scene.

Stenton attended a sex party. McAvoy and Jenny interview some of the partygoers to learn who saw him last. One of them is McAvoy's ex; they hook up.

They discover bloody pieces from a glass table in the garbage. There is purple hair, which leads them to Lauren Foster. Vic tried to rape her and she was saved by Gus Prisciacc in a bunny costume.

While venting to her therapist, Jenny realizes Shanti was lying. She's killed her husband to protect her son from the truth.

Production Code: 351416-3
Summary: Jenny investigates a dismembered body that is found in Crother's Woods. Ross struggles with his dad's death.

Jenny tells her therapist about the dog. He says to make friends. She does and learns it is scared of her.

Using DNA, Jenny, and co connect dismembered body parts to a missing person report. Daraja Kamau reported her husband Gideon missing and thought he was murdered. He was a computer professor from Nigeria who championed using technology to connect marginalized African groups. Daraja was pregnant when he went missing.

Obsolete computer equipment was stolen the night Gideon went missing. Jenny connects this to William Webber, a similar death in a similar field on the same night that was ruled an accident by Dr. Peterson.

Ross's boyfriend Matteo comes to visit. They get in a fight over Ross's depression. Ross does work for Liam. He wants to drop out of school and get a job. Jenny agrees to let him work for Liam, but he has to pass the school year.

Jenny meets Lucy from digital forensics. They find a copy of a manuscript by Dylan Lee, who was supposed to meet Webber the night he died.

Jenny and McAvoy meet Dylan Lee and Amanda. They check out the house. Amanda sets up a social media account for Jenny and they take a selfie. Dylan lies about a tenant in the basement. Amanda reacts and Jenny notices. Their friend Storm is crashing in the basement. He was a student of Gideon's that Jenny and McAvoy interviewed earlier.

Amanda sees Dylan and Storm moving something. She goes into the basement and finds a gun. She brings it to the station and asks for lady coroner: they think she's a threat but Jenny gets her to put the gun down. They get a warrant for the basement and roof.

Amanda takes a call from Dylan. She sneaks off to meet him. Cliffhanger-ending.

Production Code: 351416-4
Summary: Jenny is on the chase to stop a killer as he leaves a bloody trail of rampage across the city. The stakes are even higher when she realizes her son has been in contact with him.

A female body is found in Humber River and Jenny is relieved that it isn't Amanda. The body was frozen before it ended up in the water. Jenny suspects it to be Dylan's mother.

Dylan keeps tweeting Ross about his book. He takes a selfie of him working with Liam and posts it. Liam takes his phone.

The gun was registered to Randall Jeffries.

Dylan gives Amanda a diamond ring and asks her to marry him in Australia.

Det. Kim and Allen find a Randall Jeffries Sr. and Sarah Jeffries' bodies. One of her fingers is chopped off.

Randall Jeffries is Storm. They find Mein Kampf, 1984, darts above his bed and blood on his pillow, and the stolen computer equipment in his dorm.

McAvoy skims Dylan's book and thinks he and Storm are sharing delusion by proxy, a pact between two disturbing individuals sharing a violent fantasy.

The two stole old bitcoin passwords from the computers they stole. Lucy also found Reddit posts between Dylan and Storm. Apparently, Dylan is the instigator and recruited/groomed Storm.

Amanda takes a selfie with a cashier while Dylan and Storm try to get money. The cashier tags the selfie. Det Kim and Dr. Allen question her.

Dylan and Storm kill a hydro worker and steal his truck. Amanda freaks out and tries to run. Dylan tracks down/attacks Ross with the sword. Liam protects him but Dylan gets away.

They use Dylan's tweets to Ross to get Dylan's number and get Amanda on the phone. They catch Dylan and storm. Amanda survives.

Jenny reopens all of Dr. Peterson's old cases. Her boss and Det. McAvoy are mad at her.

Ross finds a picture of Jenny with her dead sister and their dog. It's the black dog.

Jenny's eyes glow red.

Production Code: 351416-5
Summary: Jenny hosts Thanksgiving at home with her dad and mother-in-law. When the plumbing breaks down, her work life and personal life collide in the worst possible way.

Gerald Henry Jones's lawyer Richie Singh applies to get his verdict overturned. He's been in prison for 12 years. McAvoy meets with Greer. Her Ph.D. is in studying the homeless. She thinks Jones, a rich man that stabbed homeless man Floyd Shipman 26 times, is lying. McAvoy asks for her help keeping Jones in prison. She has a theory about Jones' killing spree attributed to junkies, but they can't prove it.

Sabina, Alison, Jenny's Dad Gordon, and her mother-in-law Manu come for Thanksgiving.

The water can't connect to the city, so Liam hooks it up to the well on the property. There are chunks in the water because there is a dead body in the well. They bring the body up and deal with the authorities. Jenny does not want them to call homicide until they identify the body. There is a green shamrock tattoo, later identified as a cancer tattoo, on the body. A Northern water snake crawls out of its mouth. Liam catches it.

Thanksgiving guests see the body

Liam ignores phone calls.

The corpse was James Grigson. He went missing hiking Bruce trail. Jenny thinks he fell into Tews Falls when hiking, sank to the bottom of the lake, and an aquifer washed him into the well. Liam thinks it was murder. The detective also thinks it was murder. Grigson has a million-dollar accidental death insurance policy put in place a few weeks before he died. His daughter is the sole beneficiary. Jenny figures out it was suicide meant to look accidental.

Manu and Jenny get into a fight.

Ross finds out about Jenny and Liam and decides to go stay with his grandmother.

Jenny remembers the dog.

Dr. Allen tells Jenny that the pig skeleton Mcavoy brought in includes one human bone.

Baker), Sarah Mennell (Officer (Patrol Car)), Trisha Blair (Terrified Woman), Bobby Daniels (Baseball Coach)
Production Code:	351416-6
Summary:	Jenny conducts her first inquest into a police shooting as Detective McAvoy confronts the brotherhood of blue.

Jenny presides over her first inquest. Each of the cases concerns an emotionally disturbed person (EDT) whose encounter with police resulted in death. The jury must decide for each case if the death was accidental, natural, suicide, homicide, or undetermined death.

McAvoy is pulled over for running a red light on the way to the inquest.

Crown Counsel is Leigh Marks. Rory Durham represents the Toronto Police Association.

Case #1: The shooting death of Kofi

Abanda.

Witness Detective Kim Taylor testifies. She teaches Use-of-Force training and says EDPs are not always able to comply which leads to escalation if officers are confronted with violence. Officers are taught to de-escalate in training but it isn't always practical in the field and wasn't in Kim.

Peter Bell is the second witness. His partner Scott Deveaux is the one who shot Kofi. They thought he was reaching for a weapon, but it was a trumpet.

Kofi's family gets upset and McAvoy calms them down.

McAvoy knows Kofi's family from his childhood. Kofi's sister, Ms. Abanda, is mad at him for not helping more. He claims it was a conflict of interest. McAvoy hears tracks Kofi laid down and recorded on his phone the night he died. He hears two men talking, using the name Bivvy. This refers to former officer Seth Fuller.

Deveaux's story doesn't check out with the body report. Jenny postpones the trial. The Abandas sit in for action.

McAvoy gets Fuller to admit that Kofi was peaceful and demands he come to court. Jenny discovers anti-depressants in Kofi's urine, which could cause a false-positive PCP test.

Officers threaten McAvoy outside his home. Fuller claims he was drunk when he talked to McAvoy. McAvoy threatens Deveaux.

Jenny finds confetti discharge in heart, proving they tased after shooting.

Summary: Following the death of a co-worker, Jenny and McAvoy discover clues that lead them to a serial killer.

Ross takes his father's ashes from the closet and hallucinates talking to the woman who died in their house.

McAvoy thinks Gerald Henry Jones killed Dr. Peterson. His house is the one that was up for sale.

Jenny finds an article about her sister's death at Dr. Peterson's and has a panic attack. McAvoy gets her to her therapist.

McAvoy accuses Jones of killing Dr. Peterson. Jones accuses McAvoy and Dr. Peterson of planting evidence.

Jenny takes Ross with her to work. He's high from gummy candies with pot. He's been self-medicating since his father died. Liam picks him up and tells Jenny he's serious about her.

They find roman numerals on Dr. Peterson's ribs: XXIV meaning 24. The miscellaneous pig rib McAvoy brought in is Number 1. Jenny deduces it is a serial killer. The rib is from 30 years ago.

They find a patch of flowers planted 30 years ago in the vicinity and dig up the remains. Tiny Tiny who owns the property tells them about Reggie Johnson and his son who used to live on the property and then just disappeared. They find the body and the missing rib fits.

Reggie Johnson's son changed his name to Gerald Henry Jones. His first victim was his father. He had TB. The sputum sample on the tissue found in Dr. Peterson's body also had TB. They work out that it was Gerald Henry Jones's sputum.

Jones killed worker Sully and switched with him. He goes after Jenny while she's alone. He left that article for her about her sister's death. He stabs her and pursues her. She runs. She remembers pushing her sister over the railing. McAvoy comes and shoots Jones just in time.

Erika Mukherjee was bad mouthing

Brad for getting her fired from the lab. She used her keycard to enter the building over the weekend. She was "babysitting" undergrads to make some money.

Erika Mukherjee lost her job at the lab because of Brad. She feels she was more qualified. She followed him and found out he was also working for the competing lab. Both labs want the patent first.

The other lab is called Agamede Canada. It's run by Dr. Sue Pham's twin sister Ambrosia. Ambrosia claims not to know who Brad is.

They were really studying Huntingtons Disease, which they both have. Sue's is more progressed. Ambrosia was impersonating Sue and expierementing on Brad. He found out what they were doing and she killed him.

Laim drives Gordon to EKG appointment. Ross tags along. They were going to go to the gym, but Mal texts he can't make it because he hurt his shoulder. Turns out he tried to kill himself. Liam finds him and calls an ambulance. He spars with Ross and hurts Ross's arm.

Jenny mentions the trial to Gordon, but then the lab is shut down for fraud.

River meets the new pathologist, Casey Winter.

McAvoy's sister is getting married and inquires about his plus-one.

McAvoy calls Noor with a phone he left in her bag.

Summary: Jenny assists Donovan on a case that brings them in to the world of true crime podcasts; they must figure out how to solve a murder with no body.

Noor is a guest on a true crime podcast called Slaughter Into Wine. She discusses Dyanne Tucci, a woman in an abusive marriage who disappeared some time ago.

McAvoy visits Jenny in the sleep clinic, and asks for her help with the Tucci case.

Dr. Sharma chastises Jenny for working on a case during her sleep testing. He says she seems to be sleeping easier in the clinic, which is unusual, and implies that whatever is making her sleepwalk is at home.

Jenny gets an MD named John who came for help with his insomnia to help her steal back the file. He helps her with the case. Dr. Sharma tells Jenny she never left her room. She hallucinated John Fernandez, who is the main character in a TV show her father likes about a Coroner. Her calls to Mcavoy were real. The rest was in her head.

Someone sent an email to the podcast saying they were with Shane Tucci the night Dyanne disappeared, and his alibi is bogus.

Lucy tracks the email to Freddie Haslem, Shane's alibi. Bonnie, his partner sent the email. She and Freddie were on their first date with Shane the night Dyanne disappeared. Bonnie saw Shane leave, and tell Freddie to keep buying drinks on his card.

Jenny figures out that the weight bearing van was a service vehicle that transported cleaning supplies. Freddie did deliveries for Crestwall. Jenny determines that Shane dissolved Dyanne using the cleaning supplies. They take the pipes, and River holds a Plumbing License.
