Writer: Frank Spotnitz
Director: S. J. Clarkson
Show Stars: Melissa George (Sam Hunter), Adam Rayner (Aidan Marsh), Stephen Dillane (Rupert Keel), Adewale Akinnuoye-Agbaje (Deacon Crane), Lex Shrapnel (Ian Fowkes), Morven Christie (Zoe Morgan)
Guest Stars: Dhafer L'Abidine (Bernard Faroux), Patrick Malahide (Jack Turner), Stephen Campbell Moore (Stephen Turner), Tom Beard (Bingham), Uriel Emil (Hasan Moussa), Oscar Kennedy (Edward Turner), Scott Handy (Blank-Faced Man), Peter Vollebregt (Horst Goebel), Rob Jarvis (Doctor Hill), Souad Faress (Mrs Sidwa), Jane Riley (Sam's Mother), Maddy Griffiths (Young Sam), Mohammed Majde (Owner Cafe Khalil), Trevor White (Patrik Lindberg), Sarah McCardie (Scottish Woman), Maurice Lee (Bodyguard), Marene Miller (Plant Inspector)
Summary: After being betrayed and nearly killed in Tangier, private security operative Sam Hunter recovers in a remote cottage. She soon returns to London to resume work for her employer, Byzantium, and determine which of her colleagues set her up. Her new assignment: posing as a tutor to the grandson of criminal multi-millionaire, Jack Turner.

The scene opens with in Tangier. A man and woman burst in kissing one another. The next morning, the man gets his things from the safe and leaves with the woman. Later the man asks the woman if she is alright. She says that she is. They arrive for the man to do a 'little business'. They go inside and meet and the woman looks suspicious. There is a noise and they leave. As they get into the car, the woman sees a red dot from the sniper gun aimed at his head. She pushes him out of the way and is shot instead. The man drives off. An ambulance arrives and grabs the woman. However she is alive and isn't who she pretends to be. She is actually Sam Hunter from a government agency. She goes inside telling the man that she forgot her passport. They allow her to go in. Meanwhile, the man who is distraught over the death of the Sam finds out that it is not blood that is on his lips and has the driver turn around.

She walks downstairs and takes out the guard to get inside a room. She had stolen the key from the man earlier. Dr. Arthur Hill is inside. She gets him to the safety of the ambulance with a little killing of the men trying to stop her. The man sees her and has his manservant go after her. However, he loses her. Aidan Marsh meets her and kisses her. She tells him that she has to tell him something and that he needs to meet her at a café. Later at a café, Sam sits down and waits to meet Aidan. But, instead unwanted company comes. She tells the café owner to call the police. She hides and takes down one of the men with fire. She goes and kills the other two men that were after her after fighting the third a bit. The police arrive and she realizes that they are not wearing police shoes. Before she can do anything, she is shot in the side and she falls to the ground.

The scene fast-forwards to one year later. At a home, Sam springs out of a bathtub. She was holding her breath trying to retrain herself. She makes her way through the woods to the store. She gets newspapers and highlights a symbol throughout the paper. It is a code. She returns home to add the papers to her growing pile. She gets up in her attic where she has the murder board of the man she was with a year ago and her team who she feels betrayed her. It is revealed that she was betrayed by one of her own. Later that night, Sam crouches in a corner of the room and remembers when she was little. She remembers how a car approached the car toward her mother, but that is it. The next morning she repeats her routine of holding her breath and jogging until one morning, she manages to hold her breath and run without tiring. Later, she burns the papers and gets the book that she had as a child and leaves.

She goes to a woman in another city who shows her an apartment. She gets busy getting the apartment together and walks down the street. A man sees her from the top of a building that has the same symbol as she circled in the newspapers. She walks in to meet with the Rupert Keel, the leader of the government agency she used to work for. Deacon, the man who had the sniper rifle up on the roof a year ago, comes in and finds Sam sitting there. He asks where she went and Sam says that she was sightseeing. Keel tells Sam that he is going to have to talk to the higher-ups to see if she can, in fact, be reinstated. Deacon tells Keel that they need her back. Sam gets back to the apartment and gets the call to come back to work. She gets in the next day and sees her old team. Hasan, Zoe, Deacon and a new member are there. Ian Fox introduces himself to Sam, but she is not impressed. Keel comes in to hear the meeting. Zoe tells the team that Jack Turner is the target, but they are interrupted by Aidan coming in.

Zoe resumes telling the team about Turner. He is taking everything to make sure that he wins the elections and that they need to get close to Steven Turner, Jack's son who has a son himself named Eddie. They all sync up with the information. Sam leaves and walks down to the Metro. Aidan tries to follow her. However, he is too late. She gets into her place and finds Aidan there. He tells her that he is a spy after all. He says that he knew that she would come back. It is revealed on how she escaped from the police who shot her. She says that Aidan is the only person who knew where she was. Aidan says that Sam is crazy and that he would never kill her and his child. However, she shows that the bullet she took killed their baby. He asks her why she came back and says that she still is in love with him. She watches as he leaves in a Taxi. She then crawls into a secret part of the apartment that she created. In Istanbul, the real killer of the Café owner gets a text with Sam's picture. He was the one who killed the Café Owner before Bernard got there to investigate.

Later that night, Sam remembers how her mother was taken away from the car by two men when she was little. The next day, Sam walks down the road as a car follows her. Steven tries to tell his son to stay with him, but he is not really listening. A van, driven by Zoe, pulls up and drives erratically. Hasan runs out and grabs Eddie and Sam stops him and saves Eddie. Deacon watches and is glad that the plan went accordingly. Steven takes Sam, who introduces herself to Jack as Alex Kent. Jack asks for ID and confirms who she says she is. Sam leaves and reports back to Keel. He says that there is a mole in the agency. He tells her that he is there when she wants to talk. Deacon shows Sam pictures of the men who were at the Turner home. He says that they are working on the Dam. Steven calls her and she speaks in her American voice. He asks her to coffee. She agrees. Deacon tells her that the game is on. Sam goes to the café and finds Steven there. She gives him a remote control car for Eddie. Steven reveals that he looked her up and she is insulted. He apologizes and says that he wanted to offer her a job.

Sam reports to Deacon and Keel and they tell her that she can get close and that it will be better. She says that she will be restricted, but Keel likes it that she can get closer than they thought before. Keel says that there will be no wires to avoid suspicion. That night, Sam remembers how she found her mother killed and then two men grab her and put her into the trunk of a car. The next day, Sam goes to Aidan and demands a new handler, but he says that she is stuck with him. He says that there is going to be meeting with a Dr. Goebel. He tells her to plant a video feed and she tells him that Keel thinks that there is a mole in the agency. She tells Aidan that if he is the mole, he should run. Meanwhile at the plant, Dr. Goebel gets in and is met by the Blank Faced Man. He kills him. Sam starts her first day of work at the Turner's and Jack is not at all pleased at her staying. Steven tells him that this is the first woman whom Eddie has opened up to. The team sets up in another building and Ian doesn't like the provisions. Deacon asks Zoe if Sam talked to her just because she is a woman. She tells her that she hasn't. At the house, Sam plants the cameras and almost is caught by Steven.

Hasan is sent out to pick up Goebel. Ian asks him to pick up a few things. At the Turner's, they get a disturbing call. Bingham, the servant, comes in and says that he has good news. However, the team can't hear it because of the scrambler. Sam goes in to tuck Eddie in for the night. He says that his mother died and says that he knows that Sam's family died too. He tells her that Mrs. Sidwig will get her anything. She says that she is fine. Hasan is waiting at a light when suddenly a team comes up from behind and knocks him out. He leaves behind the milk for Ian. She goes back downstairs and Steven introduces her to The Blank Faced Man who is pretending to be Dr. Goebel.

Summary: After a colleague is kidnapped by the criminal multimillionaire she is spying on, Sam is ordered to kill him to keep him from being tortured and compromising the team. But her colleague delivers a stunning revelation — he has information on who tried to assassinate her in Tangier. If Sam carries out the order to kill him, she will never find out.

The scene opens with Steven meeting the Blank-Faced Man posing as Goebel. He says hello to Sam, who come up. Jack Turner comes downstairs as the Blank-Faced Man is about to stick Sam in the neck with a needle. Steven tries to walk into Jack's office with them, but he is told to close the door. At a hotel, Keel meets with a prostitute. Zoe keeps trying to get the audio in the meeting with the Blank-Faced Man, but she has troubles. Aidan says that Hasan isn't picking up. Back in the hotel room, the prostitute gets un-dressed for Keel. Sam tucks in Eddie and sees Bingham go out front. There is a man who is trying to get away. The team is watching and they see that the man is Husan. Sam sends a text to the team with the news.

Back at the hotel room, the prostitute gives Keel a drink. Deacon calls him and tells him about their situation. He tells him that they can't retrieve him and they are going to have to kill Husan. At the house, Sam gets word that she has to meet with Aiden and she sees that Jack is going down to the lower basement. The Blank-Faced Man asks to use the bathroom, but goes upstairs instead. Sam sees him as the elevator doors close. She tries to go to the lower basement, but she sees that it is blocked by key entry. Jack meets with Husan and asks him why he tried to kidnap his grandson Eddie. Sam goes down to the basement floor and sneaks out to meet Aiden. Jack tells Husan that either way he answers, he is dead. Zoe asks Aiden if Sam told him where she was for a year and he says that he doesn't know.

The team sees that the Blank-Faced Man doesn't have the briefcase he went into the house with. Aiden tells Sam that she is going to have to kill Husan. Aiden gets back and gives Ian some milk. Ian finds out that the team has authorized Sam to kill Husan. He doesn't like this and gets up. However, Zoe tells him that he signed up for this. Deacon says that they can't afford to be compromised. At the house, Bingham is whipping Husan with a chain trying to get information. However, he isn't talking. Sam goes downstairs to Jack's office and sees Steve. Jack comes downstairs and tells Jack to come talk to him. He tells Steven that he needs to earn his respect. They leave and Sam was hidden behind the door. She gets into Jack's drawer and takes the elevator key card.

She goes down to the lower basement and goes up to Hasan. She puts a sticker on his hand that Aiden gave her. This is going to kill him. However, Husan tells her to take it off and says that someone on the team set him up. He tells her he knows why she was hiding and tells her to take it off and he will tell her. He obliges and says that a man with grey hair and a scar came to him. She hides as Bingham and an associate fingerprint Husan. She goes back upstairs and returns the keycard. Meanwhile, a man walks up to a woman named Emma Freeman. He introduces himself as Lt. Cornel Cooley. He is the man with the scar that Husan was talking about. He asks Emma about Sam and she tells him that she doesn't know where she is. He says that she can help her and shoots her in the head. Emma's 8-year-old daughter sees the man.

Sam goes in to check on Eddie and sees a photo album by his pillow. There are pictures of his mother. She goes in her corner in her room and remembers more from her mother getting killed by men and how she was taken, put into a trunk of a car and taken somewhere. Over at the house across the way, Sam sees a figure in the window. The next day, she goes to Jack's office and sees that the keycard is not there. She goes to see the family at the breakfast table and Steven brings up the cereal Reeses Puffs that you can only get in America. Jack comes in and ignores Sam. Eddie asks if Sam can take him to school and she agrees. On the way out, Sam tells Steven that it is clear that Jack doesn't want her there. Steven tells her that he needs her to stay. Jack goes down to the lower basement and asks Husan again who he works for. Husan spits in his face and Jack kicks him repeatedly.

Ian has looked up information on Keel and the organization. He says that he is curious. Deacon says that Keel will decide what they do and says that making assumptions can get him killed. Sam goes out and the team watches. Aiden says that Sam hasn't killed Husan yet. She drops Eddie off at school and hears on the radio of the death of Emma Freeman happened. Sam asks to be dropped off and gets out of the car. Aiden goes in to see Keel and tells him that there is a mole. Aiden says that it is not him. Keel tells Aiden to watch Sam and report back to him with any suspicions. Sam goes to the home of Emma and sees a picture on the fridge of her and Emma in Afghanistan. When she leaves, Cooley follows her. She stops him with a drop kick and asks who sent him. However, he is not talking. They fight and he eventually gets away after the fight.

Sam gets to her apartment and Aiden asks her what happened. She tells him that she 'fell'. He asks about Husan and Sam tells him that Jack keeps the key with him. Aiden gives her a device to hack that elevator. Aiden cleans her up a little and tells her that there will be consequences if she doesn't kill Husan. She says that she is done and get up. Aiden goes up to a door and a woman answers. Sam crawls in her hideaway and prints out the Cooley's picture. She is trying to figure out who is trying to kill her. Back at the house, Bingham tries to be civil to Husan and offers him a drink. Dave Rider, a known associate of Jack's, arrives at the house. Jack tells Steven to give them a moment. The team tries to listen in on them, but the scramblers are too much. Jack and Dave talk and Jack tells him that they caught the guy who tried to kidnap Eddie.

Sam gets in and Steven says that he was getting worried. She shows him that she got him some Reese's Puffs. The team watch as Dave drives off with the briefcase. Ian and Zoe follow him and Ian pretends to be hit by his car. Zoe tags the briefcase. They talk and Dave drives off. Sam makes her way down to the lower basement again and the maid, Mrs. Sidwa, is going to the ground floor. Sam asks her about the horses in Eddie's album and says that his mom used to take him. She tells Mrs. Sidwa that she will look for his riding things in the basement. Steven talks to Jack and tells him that he wants to be able to show that he can take over the business. They go down to the lower basement and he gives Steven the crowbar. However, he drops it. Jack walks off. Steven tries to act tough, but realizes that he can't. Sam comes in and knocks out the guard. Husan tells Cooley didn't give him a name and says that Cooley said that he would pay a lot for her head. She is shocked.

Upstairs, Bingham says that the prints that they took are no match to anyone. They go downstairs. Sam asks about the man and he tells her that he needs to get set free. She does and he starts fighting. Sam wins this by stabbing Husan. Jack and Bingham find him there dead. Sam runs off upstairs. The team gets word that Sam accomplished the judge. Ian says that he is not happy at all. Sam meets with Aiden and tells her that the more she stays, the more she is in danger. She tells him that she is not scared. Keel meets with someone at the Pall Mall. It is Bernard Faroux! Sam sees that the figure in the window across the way is not there anymore. However, she is being watched by the Blank-Faced Man.

Summary: Travelling undercover with the criminal multimillionaire she is spying on, Sam comes face-to-face with Bernard Faroux, the Frenchman she seduced and betrayed in Tangier. He offers to tell her who tried to assassinate her, but only if she gives vital information to him instead of Byzantium.

The scene opens with Lars Holm and his wife coming up to a road blockade when a man comes up asking him to open the car door. There is a man trying to kill him. Lars gives in and they drive off. However, the man tells Lars to pull over. Lars realizes that Jack Turner sent him. He refuses to and the man kills Lars' wife. They struggle and the car flips over. The man who was walking with the knife pulls up in the car and pulls the man from the car. He tells him that the car wasn't supposed to crash. At the Turner residence, Sam wakes up Eddie, who was in the middle of a nightmare. He tells her that he keeps seeing the man's face who tried to grab him. She tells him not to worry because he will never bother him again. She tucks him in and leaves.

At the MI6 office, Aiden walks in and Zoe is there waiting for him. She talks about the mole that they may or may not have in the division. They go through the team and Zoe suspects Sam. Meanwhile, Sam goes downstairs and Stephen asks her where she is going. She tells him that she is going for a jog. Sam arrives at MI6 and Keel tells them that they've got business. Zoe says that Patrik Lindberg is the head of K-PEC along with Lars Holm as co-chairmen are the targets. There is a bid on the company and Sam says that she can swap out information about the deal that Jack is working on with a dam that is being built. Zoe tells the team that 4 investors are interested, but no more so interested than Chinese Industries Group. Keel asks Sam if there is any other news and she says that there is none.

She walks over to her apartment and looks at her board. She pulls off the picture of her old military friend who was killed. She remembers the meeting she had with the man in the alley.

She picks up the copy of The Snow Maiden, the book her mother read to her. Later, Sam is going to Brightling Chase Hotel for the weekend with Eddie and one of the guards accuses her of stealing from the Turners. Back in their hideout, Ian is not pleased that Sam gets to go to a hotel. Zoe tells the team that the tracking signal is gone on the briefcase. Ian accuses Zoe of planting it wrong. Sam arrives at the Brightling Chase Hotel and Sam sees that guards are going to the vault. Bingham leaves the briefcase in there. Eddie is driving his remote control car down the hall when it bumps into Bernard Faroux. She walks away and texts Aiden the news.

Meanwhile, Aiden is 'getting busy' with Natalie Thorpe when his phone goes off. He tells her that he has to go. She asks him if Keel has found out about them two. He says that he doesn't know. Aiden tells her that they have to end things. She asks if that is the reason and he says that it is. Stephen goes up to Jack and Jack tells him that Lindberg will be along. Sam is anxious and tells Eddie that she will be back. She goes to the room where Bernard is and takes out two of his guards with a fire extinguisher. However, he is waiting for her inside his room. He pins her against the wall and demands the Turner bid. She tells him that she doesn't have it. To show that he means business, he puts the gun in her private area and says that she will get it to him. Lindberg gets to the hotel and Jack tells him that he is going to sign the document without Lars there.

At their hideout, Deacon tries to listen in on the office in Jack's home. However, he is not making any progress. He tells Zoe that someone called Jack moments before Hasan was grabbed. Zoe says that it wasn't Aiden, but Deacon is not too sure. Ian points out that two men are taking a body away. They suspect that it is Husan and Deacon tells them to see where they take it. Meanwhile, Natalie arrives in the security room at her office and the tech guy says that Aiden goes away from the street cameras for a long time. She sees that Sam is there, someone she thought was dead. Later that evening at the hotel, Sam goes to get Eddie a hot chocolate and gives Aiden the USB drive. She tells him that he ran into Bernard and he is clearly uneasy about it. She tells him that she will get some information out of him. The guard who accused Sam of stealing from the Turners comes up to Eddie and asks where Sam is. He sees her with Aiden and walks away. Aiden walks up to the man and knocks him out.

Ian and Zoe watch as the men take the body out. Ian gets out of the car and sees the two men chop the body up and throw the pieces in a fire. Aiden drags the guard to the woods when another guard comes up behind him and they fight. After a struggle, Aiden manages to kill the other guy as well. Ian gets back from watching the men and tells Zoe that they were cremating Hasan. He says that he managed to get his boot, but Zoe says that Hasan didn't wear boots. Lindberg is signing over the company to the auction to be bid and is clearly uneasy. Stephen sees this and asks Jack about it. He says that he is fine and that they will win the bid because he has seen the other bids. Back at MI6, Deacon is talking to his daughter when Zoe and Ian come in. Ian tells him that he snagged Hasan's boot. Deacon says that Hasan didn't wear boots. Deacon gets a call from Aiden and Aiden tells him that Bernard is one of the other bidders. He says that they have to get her out of there, but Deacon says that he has to talk to Keel.

Sam sits down with Bernard and tells him that she is there to offer him a chance to save his life. However, he is not worried. He tells her that he met with Keel about information on Tungjia. He tells her to bring the bid and then he will tell her. She tells him that she will kill him. He tells her that she has until 8:00. Deacon meets with Keel and he tells Deacon that he met with Bernard about what happened to Sam. Keel tells Deacon to let Sam stay in the hotel. Jack asks Bingham about the two men missing and he asks where Lindberg is. Zoe tells Deacon that she has more information on the two men who chopped up the body. They link a location where the briefcase could be to a Gentlemen's Club. It is owned by David Ryder. Ian and Zoe go off to check it out. Later, Sam gets ready for dinner and Stephen is surprised on the way she looks. Bingham tells Stephen that Jack is not going to be with them for dinner.

Ian and Zoe get to the club and Ian goes inside to find David Ryder at the pool table. He demands him to pay him 2,000 for hitting him. He tries to have one of his men beat up Ian, but he is ready and hits the guy with a cue ball. David offers him a drink. Later that evening, Bingham tells Lindberg to come with him. Sam gives Eddie her copy of The Snow Maiden and tells him to read it. She sees Lindberg and Bingham walking in the woods and she follows. They meet with Jack and Lindberg tells him that he never agreed to kill board members. Sam listens in. Turner reminds Lindberg that he signed the deal and that there is no turning back. Sam reads up on how Lars and his wife were found murdered. Zoe is looking at pictures of her and her loved one when Ian tells her that he is getting drunk with David. At the hotel, Lindberg is met by Sam and she tells him that she wants to take down Jack, but needs his help. He agrees.

Aiden goes up to Natalie and tells her that he told her that it was over. She tells him that screwing her doesn't give him a pass. She shows him the picture of Sam and Aiden accuses Natalie of trying to kill Sam. She tells him that she didn't. At the Club, David gets his men and says that they are leaving. The men who chopped up the body are there. Ian gets up and smiles at the naked girl dancing on stage. He sees them organizing another hit. Lindberg tells Jack at the hotel that Bernard has his bid. Bernard gets a note from Sam that says 'Au Revoir'. He tells his guard to kill Sam when the bidding starts. Bingham and Jack scope out the hard drive and Aiden clones the hard drive. Bingham and Jack see that it hasn't been cloned, but Jack says that it could be done as they speak now. The bidding begins on K-PEC. Jack arrives to the bidding and meanwhile, Lindberg is killed by the two men who chopped up the last body. The bidding continues and Sam goes outside. She is followed by Bernard's men. She manages to kill the two men and goes back inside.

Bernard leaves his table after he realizes that he has been outbid. Jack's bid is 1 Billion and Stephen says that is 30 Million more than they have. The auction owners say that the bid between the Chinese and the Turners are in the Tolerance Margin and they have to have a run off. Bernard goes to his room and Sam is waiting there. She asks him about the hit that was put out on her. She is told that there were people already there called 'Hourglass'. She doesn't get any information more after she shoots and kills Bernard. Sam goes into MI6 and Keel tells her that she left behind 3 bodies. He asks if killing Bernard was beneficial. She smiles and leaves. She meets Aiden outside and she asks him to tell her the truth to gain her trust. However, he has nothing to report. At Natalie's office, she meets George Ballard of the Head Office. She asks where the files go and he says that he is the only one who sees them. However, when she leaves, he puts the files under the 'Hourglass' label.

Summary: Jack Turner finds himself being forced to bid more than he can afford. Sam aims to find out how he will raise the money in a short time. It looks like Turner has hatched a diabolical plan with hedge fund manager Lewis Conroy and Sam looks for the connection. Aidan finds out some of Sam's secrets and begins an investigation of his own.

The scene opens with Jack walking around the house in a black outfit. He checks in on the family before leaving. Sam gets the message that Jack left but when she goes downstairs, Jack is there. He leaves and Sam tells the team that she is going to follow Jack. She grabs a bike and chases after him. Meanwhile, Keel meets with Deacon and Deacon suspects Aidan as being the mole. Keel tells him that they need more evidence. Sam follows Jack to Relton University where he meets with some men. She sends the plate to the men to the team. She goes in and hears the men talking. One of the men, Lewis, asks Vince what he wants. Jack beats Vince to death and says that he wasn't going to talk anyways. Lewis sees Sam in the window and they chase after her.

Once outside, the chase is on to get Sam, but she jumps over a fence, snagging her jacket on the barb wire. Ian is there to pick her up. Jack calls for a cleanup. Sam later gets back to her apartment to find Aidan there. He says that the man who was killed was Vincent Cage, an economics expert. The other man, Lewis Conroy is a hedge fund manager. Aidan sees the jacket and sees the tear. He suggests that she get out, but she says that she can handle it. Aidan sees some light coming from the wall and climbs into Sam's secret hideaway. He sees the map to her trying to find out what is going on. At the same moment, the Blank Faced Man is watching. He prepares a needle. The next day, Sam opens the window to see that there is no one in the window of the other house.

At the hideout, the MI6 team talk about what Jack has been up to. Aidan says that it is odd that Jack isn't doing anything. David Ryder texts Ian to get to the club. Deacon asks where Aidan is going and he says that he is going to go talk to some colleagues. Sam and the Turners go to the grave of Rebecca Turner, Stephen's wife and Eddie's mother. They leave flowers. Lewis comes up to Jack and he tells him to not talk. Sam introduces herself to Lewis. At the house, Bingham is trying to match up the fabric found at the University to Sam's clothes. A woman watches from the other house window. Jack gets back home along with the others. Lewis gives Eddie a new game. Bingham tells Jack that the jacket is not in the house. Jack still suspects Sam.

Ian gets to the club and meets with David Ryder. He says that he is only trying to do his job. David says that he has a job for him. He introduces him to the man who was involved of chopping up the body. Ian sees the briefcase in the corner of the room. Sam, Stephen and Lewis are having drinks and reminiscing on old times. Lewis tells Stephen that Rebecca chose the right man. Stephen gets upset and walks out. Lewis follows and tells Stephen that he didn't mean to hurt his feelings. Stephen says that he is still in his father's house while Lewis is a wealthy man. Lewis says that no one could have saved Rebecca. Jack asks to speak to Lewis. He tells him to not worry about this and that he will take care of everything and to get him the list of women he has seen romantically. Stephen asks Lewis if Jack asked him for the 30 Million and he tells him that he didn't. Stephen says that they have to get the money by tomorrow. Lewis asks if he can ask out Sam and Stephen says that they are not in school and that he can do as he pleases. He does and she tells him that she can tonight. Stephen is clearly upset.

Ian and the man, who likes to be called Mr. Tyrone, go out to the job. Ian tries to start a conversation, but Tyrone doesn't like to talk and tells him to be quiet. They pull up behind a Pimp and Ian puts the bag with the murder weapon that killed Vincent Cage in the back of the Pimp's boot of the car. The pimp sees him and asks why he was by his car. Ian hits the Pimp and walks away. Sam goes into Jack's office and snoops around. Meanwhile, Deacon is at the church and prays for Hasan. A priest comes up to him and tells him that he looks like he needs a drink.

Aiden goes up to Simran, an analyst at MI6. He asks if she can look up information on Hourglass. She tells him that she will find out something. On his way out, he sees Natalie. Keel introduces Aiden to her and they pretend not to know one another. Keel talks to Natalie and offers her a raise for information about the mole she has. However, she tells him that there is no mole. He tells her that the offer still stands. Ian goes up to David Ryder and tells him that Tyrone told him to come back. He looks to find that the briefcase is gone. Sam gets to MI6 and they talk about the newest information and how Kismet, a program Turner and Conroy use. They see that there are natural disasters that make a spike into their profits. Sam says that she has a date with Lewis and that she is going to need a sedative. Keel tells Deacon that she had a meeting with Natalie Thorpe, but she didn't bite. Deacon is worried about his team, but Keel tells him that they are paid to be put in danger.

Lewis gets into work and the secretary tells him that Vincent Cage is dead. He pretends to be surprised. Later, Zoe gets 'busy' with her boyfriend, Andrew. He asks if it is the same as before and asks if they are alright. After a long pause she says that they are. Aiden goes up to Simran and she tells him that the Russians were spying on George Ballard, the boss of Natalie Thorpe. He has an idea. Sam sees Eddie to bed and he asks if she cried when her mother died. She says that it is alright to cry when you are sad. Stephen watches as Sam goes to her date. Sam waits for Aiden to give her the sedative for Lewis and remembers when her mother was killed. He comes up and says that it is only one scratch that is needed. He tells her that he never wants her to have to do this. He tells her that he will find out who tried to kill her because they killed their baby and it is personal to him.

Ian goes to the club and meets Tyrone. Meanwhile the police arrest the Pimp for having the murder weapon in the boot of his car. Sam arrives at Lewis' place and he is drunk already. He tells her that he knows that it was her at the University. She pretends not to know anything about it and says that he is hurting her. He apologizes and she tells him that he can tell her anything. She kisses him and they start to get 'busy'. However, she injects him with the sedative and he is out cold. She races down to where Aiden is waiting. They drive off to Louis' office. At the Turner's, Jack tells Stephen that he was cut up when his mom died. Stephen tells him to leave him alone about it. Jack tells him that he needs to make his move on Sam. He tells him that she is with Lewis. Jack gets suspicious. Aiden and Sam get to the office and find out that the spikes in revenue are because the natural disasters are being caused by Turner and Conroy. They are interrupted by security and Sam and Aiden run from them narrowly escaping. At Jack's office, Bingham says that Sam being with Lewis doesn't prove anything.

Ian and Tyrone get to an old Tram Terminal and Tyrone saws through a gas line and leaves. Louis' phone rings and he wakes up. He is told that the office has been broken into. He looks around to see Sam on the couch. Lewis calls Jack and tells him the news. He tells him that Sam was with him. However, Jack's paranoia doesn't stop and says that he was asleep and that he couldn't really know that Sam was there the entire time. Bingham says that Tyrone did his job. Aiden picks up Sam and takes her back to the house. He goes to Goncourt & Co and smells the gas that was released. A security guard is about to light a cigarette and Aiden tries to stop her, but it is too late. At the same moment, Sam is approached by the Blank-Faced Man. He tackles her and pulls out the needle to put into her eye.

Summary: When Sam wakes up, she sees a familiar face in her hospital room, who promises to be an ally. He alludes to a connection from her past and refuses to give her all the information, but does tell her a secret that leads her to take action.

The scene opens with the aftermath of the explosion. The firemen arrive and get Aiden's and the security guard's bodies. Jack watches on the television and tells Bingham that they have their Billion Pounds now. Simran comes into the office of MI6 and Keel asks about the work that she has been doing with Aiden. Meanwhile, Aiden gets escorted to the hospital and wakes up. He walks out of the hospital passing by the Blank-Faced Man. Sam wakes up to the doctor telling her that she fainted and that she was taken to the hospital. Stephen wakes up Eddie and he asks about Sam. He tells him that she is still out. He goes downstairs and Jack asks how he feels about Sam. Stephen asks what it is all about and Jack tells him that she never called.

They get a call and Ian is trying to listen in on it. Zoe, back from Amsterdam, comes in and helps. They hear that Sam is in the hospital. Zoe calls Deacon and he tells her to send Aiden to them if he shows up. He tells her that they've got a situation. The Blank-Faced Man comes into Sam's room and tells her that it is alright. He proceeds to put the flowers in water. He tells her that there are men out to kill her and he wants to help her and protect her. She asks how they knew that she was at the café in Tanjia. He says that it was intemperate for her to have an affair with a colleague. She suspects Aiden for being the mole. Aiden goes into MI6 and Deacon says that they need to talk. Simran tells him that she is sorry. Keel sits down with George Ballard and asks about Hourglass. He tells him that he doesn't know anything about it. Keel knows that he is lying and tells him to enjoy his tea.

Stephen and Eddie visit Sam in the hospital and she tells them that the doctors want to hold her for a few more hours. At the same moment, Deacon interrogates Aiden and tells him that he knows that he is the mole. Aiden tells him that he isn't and Deacon tells him that if he doesn't want to leave the room in a body bag, he better give answers. He tells Deacon that he thinks that Deacon is the mole. Sam calls the team and Zoe tells her that Aiden is being held by Deacon. Aiden tells Deacon that he wants to know why Deacon isn't the mole. Lewis comes over to the Turners and Jack tells him that Sam is in the hospital. He tells Jack that he is done. Jack tells him that he is not done until he says so. They ask for the list of women, but Lewis says that they are not going to question his friends. Bingham says that Louis has become a problem. Jack goes out for a drink at his local.

Ian goes to follow him and Zoe goes to Conroy's flat. Ian is in the office and Keel tells Deacon to come with him. Aiden escapes custody only to have his path blocked. He looks at Keel and Deacon and tells him that he never betrayed him. He shoots the window and jumps through. He escapes their custody. Sam gets to her apartment and finds out that Aiden is at The Red Friar Hotel. She arrives there and hears Aiden talking with Natalie Thorpe. He tells her that it is over because he was found out. Sam jumps down to the balcony and Aiden demands a meeting with George Ballard and says that it will help Sam. Natalie feels betrayed that their time together was all just an act. Sam comes into the room with her gun drawn. Aiden tells her that he won't hurt her. He says that he is on her side and says that he didn't know that anyone would try to kill her in Tanjia. He says that he found the hidden room and Hourglass.

Jack gets to David Ryder's club and David knocks on the car where Ian is. He is invited in. David introduces Jack to Ian, who he is calling Gary. Jack gets a look at the briefcase and tells David to hide it somewhere else now. Aiden tells Sam that George will meet with her alone. Zoe hears Trudy, Lewis' secretary, at Lewis' house. She tells him that Bingham is there at the office and Lewis authorizes him to look through the computer. Trudy tells him that she can help him. She tells him that her and Mark are really happy despite how he treated her. Zoe later tells the team that Trudy and Mark are married and that Conroy had an affair with her. Keel tells them that Trudy and Mark are the scapegoats. Zoe tells them that Hors Goebel was found in Amsterdam. She tells them that the Blank-Faced Man is the person who killed him.

Sam meets with George and he tells her that the painting of the Ambassadors is a clue to the secret society that wants Sam dead. He tells her that she wants her to change things, but she says that she doesn't know anything. Sam sees the man who tried to kill her in the building. She runs in the back and Aiden is there. He aims his gun, but the man is behind them. He shoots a dart at George, killing him. Deacon goes to the church and has a drink with the priest. He tells him that two people are going to die. He tells him that he has to try to stop it. He says that he can't. Aiden and Sam get back to the car and Aiden admits that he betrayed Hasan because he knew that Sam could kill him once Hasan started asking questions.

Back at the club, Jack gestures for Ian to come over and David says that Ian reminds him of Jack Jr. However, Jack is not too happy with the comparison and tells him that he better not betray him or else he is going to be dead with his member in his mouth. Jack hears a woman talking on the television. It is Fatima Zahir in an interview. She claims that western Corporations have self interests and wants to expose corruption if she is elected president. Deacon gets to the home of Trudy and Mark. He leaves the ripped jacket on a hook. Simran comes into the office of Keel and tells him that George Ballard was found dead. In a car, Sam tells Aiden that 3 out of the 7 board members are part of Hourglass and that they need to start with Hector Stokes, CEO of Polyhedrus. It is the same company that built the dam in Pakistan that Jack is bidding on. Sam asks why he was spying. He says that Natalie was blackmailing him because Aiden Marsh is not his real name. Keel meets with Natalie and tells her that he knows about Hourglass and George Ballard. He says that he wants answers.

Eddie gets back from school and asks about Sam. Stephen tells him that she must still be in the hospital. He gives him a card for Sam. It has the three of them holding hands. Bingham goes to Jack and tells him that the woman and man could be Trudy and Mark. Meanwhile, Sam and Aiden get to Hector's house and he sees them. He calls some people. Sam sees a house on the estate and recognizes it from when she was a little girl. Bingham goes to the home of Trudy and Mark and finds the jacket. Sam continues to remember the place and tells Aiden that she has been there before. They hear men outside and Aiden tells her that they have to leave. They fight the men and after a struggle, they manage to kill all the men. The man who tried to kill Sam in the alley shows up with a gun. However, he is killed by the Blank-Faced Man with a sniper rifle. Jack tells David that he needs Tyrone. David tells him to take Ian, but Jack isn't interested.

Aiden drops off Sam and gets a call from Natalie. She tells him that she cleaned up their mess and tells him to do something. Trudy gets home to find Mark dead. Tyrone is standing behind her with a gun. Aiden gives himself up to MI6. Sam gets to the Turners and sees Eddie to bed. Tyrone goes to Lewis' place and kills him. Aiden is taken before Deacon and is told that Hasan was the mole. Aiden sees that Natalie is talking to Keel. Aiden apologizes to Deacon for accusing him. Sam goes into Stephen's room and is told that he went to the hospital to give Eddie's card to her, but she wasn't there. She tells him that she needed to go for a walk. He asks her what about and she breaks down. He hugs her and kisses her.

Summary: Sam suspects that Jack Turner intends to assassinate Fatima Zahir, a Pakistani presidential candidate opposed to the sale of the dam he is trying to buy. Sam and the team race to save Zahir's life, only to discover Turner has an even more important target — a scientist possessing a deadly secret that implicates Byzantium's own client.

The scene opens in Islamabad, Pakistan where Fatima Zahir is getting off a plane. Umair, one of the men on her staff, is sending a fax when a man comes in and catches him. Umair strangles him with a cord. The fax says 'WSC @ 4. I am trusting you'. It is the location and time of a meeting and Jack Turner gets a copy too. Bingham is ordered to tell Tyrone and not David. However, Bingham tells Jack that the risks are considerable. Jack doesn't care and Bingham tells him that he has his loyalty. Jack burns the fax that he received. Meanwhile, Sam and Stephen are getting 'busy' and Sam tells Stephen that was nice. She sees the scar that Stephen has from the accident. She goes to the bathroom and looks at herself in the mirror.

Keel is with his prostitute and she gets a bloody nose. She says that it is nothing. Keel asks about her bruises. She tells him that she has MDS. She says that she has a little girl so she has to work a lot. Keel feels bad and asks what her name was. She says that it is Lianne Wells. Keel calls up someone and tells them that he doesn't want to see his regular girl Lianne anymore and for them to send a new girl next time. Sam meets Aidan and tells him that Stephen made a pass at her and she went along with it. Sam gets into Byzantium and Zoe tells the team that Jack is closer to purchasing the dam. Sam says that she will talk to Louis, but Deacon tells her that Louis is dead. Aidan tells the team that Sam is close with Stephen and they break off to go to their duties.

Deacon talks to Keel and says that he still doesn't trust Aidan. Keel says that he knows that he is still lying and that is only normal. He also tells Deacon that Sam is with him and that there are a lot of secrets. Keel goes into the bathroom and throws up. Ian and Tyrone get to a location and Tyrone is starting small talk with him for a first. They walk into a gun shop and they look at a sniper rifle. Tyrone gives them the money and then shoots them. Sam gets into Stephen's room and gives him a cup of coffee. He tells her that he doesn't know what to say and they kiss. While Stephen is in the shower, Sam sees a folder marked Polyhedrus. She sees that Arthur Hill, the man she saved in Tangjia, is on the list of engineers that built the dam that Jack is trying to buy. Deacon gets into the hideout and asks the team about where they are at. Aiden tells him that the Zahir is going to be at fundraisers all day and that Rahim Soomro, the minister of Pakistan is going to be at the Asia Promise Society well.

Ian gets into the hideout and gives Zoe a list of two guys Tyrone murdered. He says that Tyrone got a sniper rifle. At the same moment, Tyrone sees Zahir enter the hotel. Soomro meets up with Zahir and she accuses him of being bought off from big investors. Stephen gets downstairs and sees the book that Sam gave Eddie. He gets a call and he is upset by the call. Sam asks what's wrong. He tells her and Jack that Louis is dead. Sam and Jack pretend to be shocked by the news. DI Everett is at the scene of the crime and Stephen calls him up. He says that he has some information that Everett needs to hear. Sam goes through Jack's office desk and finds the burnt remains of the fax that he received. She collects it and gives it to Aiden. She tells him that she found a report with Horst Goebel's name and Arthur Hill's name on the engineer list. She says that she is going to try to find Hill and get some answers. Aiden says that Tyrone is going to kill Zahir under Jack's orders. Sam says that she needs to know what was in the case.

Back at the hideout, Zoe manages to piece back the bits of paper, but they can't really manage to make it out. Ian gets word from Tyrone and Deacon tells him that he can't allow Tyrone to use the rifle. Everett gets to the Turner residence and Stephen tells him that it couldn't have been a murder/suicide because Louis was happy. Everett tells Stephen that things happen out of character all the time. He says that there is a connection that Everett needs to look at. He leaves, but Stephen sees Everett talking to Bingham outside. Jack asks if everything is alright and he says that it is. He asks about the bid for the dam and Jack says that he is working on it. Stephen says that their portfolio going up is strange. Jack says that he is lucky.

Deacon and Aiden get to the Asian Promise Society and Deacon sees that there are 3 places where Tyrone could be. He says that she is going to die. Ian gets to David's club and David tells Ian to watch himself. Tyrone comes and gets Ian and tells David to mind his business. Arthur Hill gets into work and he gets a call about a gas leak and how he has to go meet the engineer at the gate. Hill goes out to find Sam there. She demands answers on the ambush that came after her. He says that he doesn't know anything and when confronted, he runs. Sam gets his ID and walks away. Deacon and Aiden get to the hotel and Zoe says that Zahir is talking to Umiar Qassani, former special armed forces and his hometown is where the dam was built. Umiar calls up someone and says that she is still going along with it. Tyrone gets a call and tells Ian that they are going shopping now.

Stephen gets into Jack's office and Bingham asks what he is doing. He tells him that he has the right to snoop around and Bingham tells him to leave. Stephen asks about Hasan and Bingham tells him to ask his father. Sam gets into Polyhedrus and the guards see that she is using a stolen ID. Sam gets into Hill's office and tries looking up her name, Hourglass and Byzantium. However, no files are on those search terms. She sees that Hill has the original fax of the meeting and that he was the one who sent the fax. She tries to leave, but is stopped by the guards. She is caught. Stephen looks at the report of the gas leak at the business. She realizes that Jack was involved. Zoe tells Deacon and Aiden that Zahir is on the move. They meet her in the elevator and take down her guards. They tell her that someone is trying to kill her today. She tells them that she is going to go through with the speech. She says that she is not afraid.

Tyrone and Ian go to the mall and see a man in a Rafi the Rabbit costume. They demand his wallet and keys and tell him to get in the trunk. Ian asks Tyrone what he is doing and Tyrone shoots the man. Keel meets with his doctor and is told that his tumor has shrunk a little, but not to give his hopes up. Stephen talks to Jack and tells him that he wants the truth about the building being blown up. He says that he doesn't want to be part of this and that he and Eddie should have left years ago. Jack tells Stephen that he is free to go, but is not allowed to take his grandson with him. The meeting comes and Zahir says that she is coming. Sam is being held and Keel gets a message. He calls someone. Ian goes to the man's apartment that Tyrone killed and waits for Tyrone to get back. Soomro meets with Umiar and he tells her that Zahir knows that someone is going to try to kill her. He says that Umiar's family is set to make a lot of money with the selling of the dam. Zoe gets to Polyhedrus and gets Sam out.

At the meeting, Deacon and Aiden look around for Tyrone, but he isn't there. Nothing happens. Sam tells Zoe that Hill is the whistleblower. Ian calls Zoe and tells him that he is at Rafi the Rabbit's place and Tyrone is on the roof of the apartment block. The team gets to the hotel and looks for Zahir. Sam realizes that they are at the Winston Spencer Churchill (WSC) room. Sam gets there just in time to push Zahir out of the way, but Hill isn't that lucky and is shot. Ian realizes that he is the patsy and that he is going to be blamed for the murders. He runs off. Sam gets back and finds Eddie in her bedroom. He says that he knows about Louis. He asks her to read the story to him. She agrees. Stephen meets with Everett and tells him that he is doubling what Jack pays him for him to tell him first, the information that he has. Everett tells him that Sam is not who she says she is. He gives him a folder.

Summary: Jack Turner demands he be awarded the dam, revealing he has evidence implicating Byzantium's client in a terrible crime. With the operation nearly over, Aidan presses Sam to revisit childhood memories of her mother's murder and her own kidnapping - to understand the reasons why the Hourglass conspirators have targeted her for death.

Sam breaks into the archive room of Hector Stokes' estate where she finds one file with her name and another with information about her mother's murder. Just then, the security guards come around, and Sam fights them off. After sustaining a light wound, she escapes, and hands her file to Aidan.

After losing his men, Stokes calls in a woman named Orla to take care of Sam. He wants her eliminated, but the presence of the Blank-faced Man is complicating matters. Orla shows up at Zoe's flat unexpectedly and tries to convince her that she's looking out for Sam, and she needs the Byzantium agent's help.

Jack meets with Soomro, the Pakistani minister who ran the bidding for the Khyber dam. Soomro tells Jack that while Turner did take out the whistleblower, he didn't live up to his promise of taking out Zahir as well. Soomro plans to award the bid for the dam to the Chinese. Jack recognizes that the Chinese are a front for Polyhedrus and tells the minister that he has the proof that Dr. Hill never did. If they won't award him the contract, he'll reveal the evidence and cost Polyhedrus billions.

Stephen Turner confronts Sam with the file he was handed by Inspector Everett. Sam quickly covers and denies any wrongdoing, and Stephen, increasingly suspicious of the role his father played in Lewis' death, tells her he wants to take her and Eddie and leave his father's house for good. Stephen gets Everett to admit on tape the orders that resulted in Lewis' death, then takes the evidence to the police. When Stephen goes in to meet with the local commander, he finds his father instead and is chastised for going against the family. His father informs him that Sam has been playing him the whole time.

Fowkes goes to Dave Ryder, claiming to hide from the cops after Tyrone set him up. When Dave brings him into his home, Fowkes goes about looking for the briefcase, which he believes contains the evidence that Polyhedrus fears.

Natalie Thorpe, Aidan's MI6 handler, meets with Edward Gillespie, the Under Secretary for the Ministry of Defence. She informs him that that file on Sam Hunter she'd given to her superior somehow ended up in the hands of Hector Stokes, and that she fears something called Hourglass is behind it. Thorpe realizes that Gillespie is part of the conspiracy and likely the person who passed on the material to Stokes, though he feigns total ignorance about Hourglass.

Sam traces a check Turner's company made out for Horst Goebel back to a young Pakistani girl named Noura, whom Goebel had sponsored. Sam meets with her and learns the true story of the Khyber dam: The people in Noura's village didn't want to leave their homes to make way for the dam, so Polyhedrus faked a natural disaster that killed 600 villagers. Doctors Hill and Goebel had collected evidence in the form of soil samples from the lake proving the so-called disaster was really a gas attack carried out by Polyhedrus. The evidence from the lake is in the briefcase that was delivered to Jack Turner.

Rummaging through Ryder's house, Fowkes finds the case. Ryder catches him in the act, but just as he forgives him, Tyrone shoots the older man in the head. Fowkes and Tyrone fight in Ryder's building, with Fowkes coming out on top. He grabs the briefcase and brings it to Byzantium, where it's revealed to be full of nothing but rocks. Zoe pores over old footage and realizes that the real briefcase never left the Turner house. The one given to Ryder was a decoy.

Keel confronts Sam about breaking into Stokes's house. He knows she came back to Byzantium to find out who wants her dead, but Sam still doesn't trust him. Natalie catches up with Sam and hands her the key to a safety deposit box, the contents of which will reveal Aidan's true identity.

Bingham confronts Everett after realizing that he's been working with Stephen. He has Tyrone kill the inspector.

Keel meets with Stokes, who asks him to move up their timetable and kill Jack Turner within 48 hours. The hasty action arouses Keel's suspicion that Polyhedrus is readying to kill Sam as soon as the mission is carried out.

At the Turner house, Jack asks to speak with Sam. He apologizes for the way he's treated her, and offers Sam a cup of tea—in which he's slipped in something extra.

Summary: Byzantium is instructed to eliminate Jack Turner, but after the attempted assassination fails, Sam becomes exposed as a spy, and is trapped and unable to escape from the house. Turner shows the evidence he has against Byzantium's client. Sam is secretly being poisoned to death and finally starts to remember terrible memories that explain why the conspirators from Hourglass want her dead.

Aidan informs Sam that the mission is coming to end-the client, Polyhedrus, has ordered Byzantium to kill Jack Turner. Realizing that the mission is the only thing keeping her alive, Sam desperately searches her hazy memory as to why Polyhedrus wants her dead, but remembers nothing. Aidan asks her to retrieve the case from Jack's study with the evidence being used as blackmail.

Outside Eddie's birthday party, Byzantium plants an explosive device on Jack's car. Just as Jack is about to step inside, he asks his grandson to join him. Sam fakes an ankle injury to pull the boy away from the car. Eddie runs over and the bomb goes off. Jack is only slightly injured, but Sam's cover is effectively blown.

Back at the house, Bingham poisons the water he's been giving to Sam. A troubled teenage girl who lives in the house across the street witnesses it from her window and sends a message to Stephen. She tells him that Tyrone and his father killed his wife, and now they're doing the same to Sam.

Sam summons her strength to look for the case, but before she can take it, Bingham walks into the study. He takes her phone and forces her to drink the poisoned water.

Following up on the girl's lead, Stephen confronts Tyrone at Dave Ryder's old bar. Tyrone isn't rattled by the encounter and doesn't deny killing Stephen's wife. Instead, he tells Stephen that he's been a better son to Jack than Stephen ever has. Stephen returns home and sends Eddie to a friend's house so he can confront his father. When pressed, Jack tells his son his bidding and blackmailing for the Khyber dam was about revenge: Polyhedrus is responsible for the death of Stephen's other brother, and Jack won't be satisfied until he kills the corporation.

Jack meets with the Pakistani minister Soomro to share the evidence he has of the mass murder Polyhedrus carried out to secure the Khyber dam. He provides Soomro with a soil sample from the briefcase the Blank-faced Man delivered in the guise of Horst Goebel. The Byzantium team analyzes the sample and finds it contains no evidence. With Jack holding zero leverage, Soomro walks out of his office, prepared to sign the dam contract over to Polyhedrus.

Jack is incensed and orders everyone out of the house except for Sam. He puts the house on lock-down so no one can get in or out and climbs the stairs to Sam's room. He holds a weakened, poisoned Sam under the water in the bathtub. Sam fades in and out of consciousness and flashes back to her childhood and the memory of a man, missing part of his finger, holding her down in the Oast houses on Hector Stokes' estate.

The Blank-faced Man, who has watched Sam's poisoning through his own security cameras, provides Aidan with a needle he says will help Sam. Aidan fights with Bingham outside the Turner house and kills him.

After Jack leaves Sam for dead in the tub, she finally lets out a breath and pulls herself out. She spots Jack leaning by the railing and knocks him over. Turner falls to his death while Sam collapses to the floor. Aidan rushes in and injects her with the needle, reviving her. "You're late," she chides him.

The Blank-faced Man meets with Keel. He has the briefcase with the real evidence against Polyhedrus, and he offers in exchange for Sam. Later, Crane gives Keel his letter of resignation, but Keel enlists him for one final mission.

Orla uses Zoe to lure Sam out onto a nearby bridge. Gun in hand, Orla approaches Sam, who seems as if she's just been betrayed. But before Orla can shoot her, Sam is taken out by a faraway shot and falls over the bridge. The sniper is Crane and he's shot her with a squib, just like in Tangier.

A healthy Sam returns to Scotland, where she picks up and plays with the child she'd never actually lost.
